HUDSON LIGHT & POWER CELEBRATES PUBLIC POWER WITH OPEN HOUSE

HUDSON, September 8, 2016– The Hudson Light and Power Department will launch Public Power Week with an Open House on Saturday, October 1, from noon to 4 p.m. at its Generating Station at 77 Cherry Street.

Hudson Light and Power is one of 2,013 public power utilities serving about 48 million customers across the country. Public Power utilities are not-for-profit and are owned by and accountable to their customers. With employees who live in the towns they serve, they are community-focused.

“Public Power Week is a great opportunity for public utilities like Hudson Light and Power to remind customers about the many advantages we offer and to thank them for their support,” said General Manager Brian Choquette.

Hudson Light and Power invites the community to attend the Open House and has reserved the Cherry Street Softball Field beside the Power Station for the event. Some of the features of the Open House include:

*Free Tours of the Generating Station
Conservation Information
Free hot dogs and ice cream
Solar Incentive Information*

*Bucket Rides for Kids
Safety Displays
3rd Grade Poster Contest Awards
And more!*
